ACCESSIBILITY ADVOCATE & INFLUENCER

About Us

We are a family of four sharing our travels around Australia - and the world - with a wheelchair in tow. We encourage people to explore the possible. On Have Wheelchair Will Travel, we share trips, reviews, advice, and inspiration for travel and day-to-day life with a disability.

OUR FAMILY

We are a Sydney-based family of four, and we have 20+ years experience of travel with a wheelchair in tow.

Braeden is 27 years old. He lives with cerebral palsy, is non-verbal, a wheelchair user, and needs assistance with all his living needs.

Amelia is 20 years old, and always excited to travel with us and help her brother.

Julie is the creator of Have Wheelchair Will Travel. She first had the idea when planning a trip to the US for all four Jones family members.

OUR MISSION

To inspire, inform, and advocate for inclusive travel opportunities around the world, with the support of our partners and community

Having a family member with a disability inevitably changes a family's lifestyle, but we believe that positive experiences and adventures should be accessible to people of all abilities. Everyone should feel the liberation that comes with overcoming barriers to travel.

OUR COMMUNITY

Our readers struggle to find travel opportunities that suit their needs. They seek out resources like Have Wheelchair Will Travel to point them in the right direction. They want to hear from a family that understands their struggles and can offer them solutions.

Our readers appreciate that we share our real, lived experience - good, bad, and otherwise. It makes them feel like travel is an achievable goal for them and their loved ones.

The information we share makes our readers feel confident about visiting new places and trying new products.

Our Vision

Everyone who lives with a disability feels that adventure, fun experiences, and making great memories are possible for them. They have access to the information they need to make it happen.

Their dreams can come true!
